QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasional, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Features of International Harvester Engines

WEIGHT is a good thing in an engine, provided the weight is put in the right places. In the I H C engine the extra weight goes into the fly-wheels to store up power; into the cylinder walls, making it possible to regrind the cylinder six or eight times; into the valves to prevent warping, etc. These are the parts where weight counts.
Study I H C fly-wheel split hubs. A split hub in a fly-wheel is no better than a solid hub until something occurs which requires the removal of a fly-wheel. Then the split hub is needed.
This one feature, which costs practically nothing when you buy an
I H C engine, may save you a heavy repair bill in the future.
Come in and let us show you the other strong points of I H C engines.
There are enough of them to keep you interested for a half day or more.

MR & MRS
BENJAMIN
LOCKWOOD

New York April 2.—Two hours after Benjamin Lockwood was married, in this city three years ago, he received a cable that his presence in Ecuador was imperative at once. He is an official on the Guayaquil-Quito railroad and a boat sailed with him that day on board. He has been in Ecuador ever since, labor difficulties keeping the railroad situation tense. Today he is back in New York to claim his bride. He would not permit her to brave the dangerous climate of Ecuador.

Dothan Harmony Club—

Quantities of bright yellow daffodils and pots of begonias and ferns were attractive flowers used on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. W. S. Wilson, when she entertained the Dothan Harmony Club.

A full rehearsal of the Operetta, "The Feast of the Little Lanterns" was held; a beautiful piano solo, "Scarf Dance (Chantinnade)" by Mrs. G. M. Lewis, was thoroughly enjoyed. Two numbers by Miss Mary Lou Bell and Miss Mary Gaines, student members of the club, were especially appreciated. Miss Mary Lou Bell played "Reverie" on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. C. S. Tutwiler, and Miss Mary Gaines played an instrumental solo, "Spring Dawn," by Mason.

Miss Frances Griffin, the guest of Mrs. C. S. Tutwiler, gave a very interesting talk, on her travels in Europe.

An open meeting of the club will be held on the evening of April fifteenth, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Grant.

Five new student members were elected at this meeting. Misses Flora Howell, Reba Pileher, Mary Ella Fenn, Kathryn Gaines and Lucile Cotton.

At the close of the afternoon hot tea and sandwiches were served. Mrs. M. B. Byrd and Mrs. H. G. Smith assisting Mrs. Wilson.

In Honor of Charming Visitors—

Three attractive visitors were the inspiration for a very enjoyable "April Fool" party on yesterday evening, given by Miss Helen Carter, honoring Miss Ruth Dunklin, of Greenville, the guest of Mrs. and Mrs. E. D. Crawford, and thoroughly enjoyed.

Miss Ophelia Davis, of Columbus, Ga., and Miss Coral Decker, of Marianna, Fla., the guests of Miss Florrie Malone.

The young men were given an opportunity to display their taste in the way of a "woman" hat by trimming a hat for their partner. Mr. Ben Barnes was awarded the prize, a tiny Easter bonnet in a huge band box.

For trimming the most becoming hat, Miss Decker was awarded the prize, a sample of face powder in a tiny hat box.

Late in the evening a delicious lunch was served, Miss Willie Pearl Carter assisting the hostess. Invited to this merry party were Miss Dunklin, Miss Decker, Miss Davis, Miss Malone and Miss Idoline Brown; Messrs. H. A. Denton, Ben Barnes, Frank Usery, Jeff Pittman, Brantley Folmar, H. A. Hicks, Carl Simonton and Holt Simonton.

Personals—

Miss Frances Griffin, of Montgomery, is the guest of Mrs. C. S. Tutwiler.

Mrs. Frank Slocumb and Mrs. L. R. Burdeshaw, of Headland, spent yesterday here.

Mrs. F. F. Koerber, Mrs. W. L. Lee, Mrs. Oakley and Mrs. L. W. Armstrong, of Columbia, were in the city Thursday.

An enjoyable "hike" was taken by the Deala Camp Fire Girls Thursday afternoon, chaperoned by Miss Annie Howell Jordan, in the absence of their guardian, Miss Belle Jones.

The "hike" commenced at two o'clock and continued to a place beyond the Fair Grounds, where a delicious lunch was prepared and thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. W. R. Koonce has returned from Montgomery after several weeks stay.

Missionary Society—

The Young People's Missionary Society of the Foster Street Methodist church will meet in the Sunday school room Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Story Tellers League—

The Camp Fire Girls Story Tellers League will meet Saturday morning from 9 to 10 o'clock at the Grammar School building. A full attendance is requested.

Mrs. Walter Watford and little daughter, of Dothan, are visiting in the city.—Troy Messenger.

Taxation.

Taxation is a small word, but has a big meaning.

It is a word that has bothered the property owners for thousands of years.

It is a word that has brought on wars, and caused rumors of wars, and much blood shed.

Taxation has been the main plank in every candidate's platform from time immemorial, and it will continue to be.

Every candidate proposes to do something to help enlighten the tax burden and yet, would statistically show that the older the community grows, the higher its taxes—always.

Adam and Eve were not bothered about taxation, but as soon as their sons and daughters grew up, the trouble started.

At that time, in the early morning of our world's history, we had no government, no governments are known now, but we had a form of taxation. Every tribe, man or headman, levied his taxes. No official, even at that time, figured that he could make a living outside of his job, if it was nothing but directing the neighborhood rows of a dozen of his fellow citizens. So he had to be paid for his time, in so many sheep skins, or so many goats, and they were collected from the common people and turned in to the chief.

As our civilization grew older, we had kings and queens, and of course they had to be supported out of the earnings of the many. It was their job to boss, to direct, and they did that and let the people pay, as the people have ever done.

A tax was not levied just to take care of the higher officials, but there were certain institutions, that were of common benefit and of course the people had to support them, and so on down to our present civilization.

We must have a head of the nation, and the various subdivisions.

We must have a seat of government. Who is going to provide it?

It is not a one man job. It is a duty we all owe, and a fund to which we must all contribute, and that is fair.

When Washington founded this republic, the handful of citizens at that time couldn't have built all the public buildings needed out of the treasury at that time, so they borrowed money, and were paying it, and borrowing more money, and our children are paying it. No one should pay for it. It is a duty we all owe, and a fund to which we must all contribute, and that is fair.

So we have a system of taxation we inherited from our fathers. We will have such a heritage to our children, only bigger. Taxes with property will pay them. Then after a while, people without much property, but with certain incomes, will share in the burden, according to such incomes. The man who wants to solve the taxation question, will tell you that the burden should be evenly distributed on property. That is the good, but common practice is something that has a edgy sound.

But so long as we enjoy a common good, a common convenience, just so long will we all have to pay taxes, and the older we get the more conveniences we will discover that we must buy, and the public bill will be tapped to buy it.

We, as the city of Dothan, first taxed ourselves to build a water works system. Then we taxed ourselves to build a light plant, then the sewer system, the school buildings, the street and sidewalk paving. Improvements that benefit us all, and we are all paying for, year by year. Or, rather, we are merely paying the interest. We never retire the bonds by paying up the principal. War bonds five hundred years old, are still running, drawing interest. But we can keep interest paid, because our numbers are increasing; our property is becoming more valuable.

Note of Warning.

The Opelika News sounds this note of warning to the farmers of Alabama, and very truly says that "those who think the European war will be over in time for them to get a high price for the cotton they grow this year will not be near so badly disappointed next fall if they have plenty of corn and other stuff to supply their farms for another year as they will be if they neglect to diversify and let another winter creep upon them and catch them with cotton that no one wants and enough to offer us much for it as it costs to grow and market it." The farmer who fails to raise the necessities of life and has any of them to buy next fall, will soon find out that he has made a serious mistake. Let the fellows in other pursuits buy the foodstuffs upon which they must subsist, but let the farmer make all that he may need for his own use, and to spare, and he can make just as much cotton as he may choose in addition, it won't matter, for he will be independent and can hold the staple for a better price or dispose of it at will. Happy farmer who will do all that.—Montgomery Times.

Speaking about a hustling town, you ought to see Dothan. It's good for sore eyes any time but about next week when the Sunday school convention delegates begin to come, it will be something unusual. But it isn't too big for Dothan people. They will get away with it alright, and with credit.

A Brooklyn judge sentenced a young fellow named Assman to prison for stealing. He no doubt brayed his innocence and kicked at the sentence.

Beware of the new fly. He's a little one, and his race should be exterminated early, so that his numbers will not increase so rapidly.

Mrs. Davis Campbell and Mrs. Peach of Columbia, were in the city today shopping.

In Days of Old.

Walt Mason in Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

"I don't know what to do tonight," said the youthful boarder. "There are so many good amusements scheduled, I can't make up my mind as to which I should take in."

"No wonder the young men of this generation seem prematurely old," sighed the star boarder. "They are always facing such problems as you complain of, and the mental strain is great. Every evening the same embarrassing question rises: 'Where shall I go? To the dance or to the moving pictures? There are thirty-seven joyous jamborees announced for tonight; which shall I attend?'"

"The young man who must constantly struggle with such vital issues can't expect to remain young long. Gray hairs are bound to appear upon his head and creases upon his brow. I'm glad I'm young. My footsteps are feebler, once fearless and bold, as the poem says, and I rejoice in the fact. I have no distracting problems to face when evening approaches. I have my accustomed chair and the daily newspaper; therefore, let the mad world wag on as it will; I'll be gay and happy still. That also is a quotation from one of the minor poets, my dear Mrs. Jiggers."

"When I see a boy trying to choose a brand of revelry for my given evening, I begin to realize how times have changed since I was young. The world really is a different place, altogether. If the rude forefathers of the hamlet who died forty years ago could come back they'd refuse to believe they had landed on the same old planet."

"When I was a young man, our pleasures were absurdly simple. There were no cheap shows then and if a youth went to the theatre once in six months he felt that he was becoming dissipated. And only shows with a strong moral purpose were considered respectable. If a young man were seen at the other kind, his reputation was gone for good. I remember when 'Ten Nights in a Bar Room' was new, and for a long time it was the great American drama."

"The spelling bee was a favorite institution in those halcyon days. The young men and women of the countryside assembled and were arrayed in opposite ranks, under capable captains; a silver-tongued orator handed out all the six-cylinder words in the dictionary, and the contestants spelled them until they got their wires crossed, and when they missed a word they were down and out. The side that had the last man or woman on the floor was victorious, and such a victory was worth while. After the strenuous exercise there were refreshments, and perhaps a game of blind man's buff, and the weekly paper, in chronicling the event, always said that a most enjoyable time was spent by one and all, both great and small."

"Olds fish, young man, you may sneer at such amusement, but nevertheless we were happier at the old spelling bee than you ever will be at your modern revels. A wave of homesickness sweeps over me at the mere mention of a spelling bee."

"There were husking bees and sawing bees, and various other bees; and at all of them sensible work was mixed up with harmless fun and that theory embraces all there is of human wisdom. Nowadays the idea of adulterating fun with work would cause a revolution. But I would forsake any of your gliding modern amusements to go to an old-fashioned husking bee, where young

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side."

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

FRENCH CRUISER SINKS SUBMARINE

Paris, March 31.—A statement indicating that a German submarine may have been sunk by a French cruiser was given out today by the ministry of marine. It follows:

"Yesterday afternoon a French light cruiser sighted a German submarine maneuvering on the surface near Dieppe. The cruiser immediately gave chase, forcing the submarine to dive, firing men while at the periscope and turning in order to ram it with the bow."

"The cruiser passed above the spot where the submarine was last seen, quantities of oil floated on the surface."

WHEN A QUARTER OF A MILLION OF PEOPLE INAUGURATED
THE VAST PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION AT SAN FRANCISCO

Transportation reports show that every state in the United States and most of the nations of the world were represented in the great throng of 250,000 people who inaugurated the Panama-Pacific international exposition at San Francisco on February 20. This picture, showing the mighty South gateway, gives a glimpse of a small fraction of the opening day throng. In the first five days of its progress the exposition had an attendance larger than the combined totals of the Chicago and St. Louis expositions and the ratio continues in a degree to justify predictions of the most spectacular success for the exposition.

The Kaiser Laughter.

Among the officers who resemble the Kaiser, Wilhelm II, is a young captain who has a prodigious talent of imitation, says the Paris News Review. Some months before the war this captain found himself in a hall of the imperial palace at Potsdam. He was there with other of his friends who were officers, and began an imitation of the Kaiser with extraordinary precision in tone, quality of voice, gesture and appearance. All at once a terrible silence. Wilhelm II had arrived in the hall. The officers saluted respectfully and remained motionless. "Very well go on," said the Kaiser, addressing the captain. "I did not know you had this talent." The officer hesitated a moment, then extending his arm and receiving the intonation of his sovereign, cried in a strong voice: "Captain, you should be charged out of the army, but in consideration of your youth, and because I know you to be a worthy and brave soldier, I pardon you." The Kaiser laughed and the officer was not punished.

MERRITT COMMITTEE MAY PROBE THE FRATS

Movement to Abolish Greek Letter Organizations on Foot.

Montgomery, Ala., March 31.—It is reported here on reliable authority that citizens of Alabama interested in the abolition of fraternities at the University of Alabama are preparing data on the subject to submit to the Merritt investigating committee. It is generally agreed that a fight will be launched in the legislature with the object in view of wiping out fraternities.

The fraternity men of the state will more than likely organize to fight such a movement.

The non-fraternity men at the University have from time to time contended that the existence of fraternities at the university resulted in practices and customs that were highly undemocratic and injurious.

The fact that a large number of students at the university are not members of fraternities is principally in the sudden increase in attendance it is declared. It

German Airmen Drop 100 Bombs on Russian Soil

London, March 31.—Great activity has been displayed in the last few days by German aviators, says a Petrograd dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company according to a semi-official statement, which reads as follows:

"Fifteen German aeroplanes flew over Ostrolenka Monday dropping a hundred bombs at an isolated house, which they apparently mistook for Russian headquarters. None of the bombs hit the house and the occupants were not injured."

"Near Jedwabno we brought down an enemy aeroplane capturing the officer and the mechanic."

Took Mother's Advice

Some time ago a party named Harry married a pretty little thing, and after the usual honeymoon the young couple settled down to housekeeping, says the Philadelphia Telegraph. "Little Wifey" wasn't much of a cook, but she managed fairly well in the matter of boiling eggs and frying potatoes, and hubby didn't grumble.

"Harry, dear," happily remarked wifey when hubby returned from the office one evening, "I have been baking a pie for you. I want you to come and see it."

"Why, so you have," responded Harry, hastening to the kitchen and taking a critical look at the pastry. "But what in the deuce is the matter with it? The crust doesn't half cover it!"

"Of course, it doesn't, silly," smilingly retorted the young wife. "Your mother told me how to make the pie and she particularly said you like the crust very short."

HOW A SMALL BOY MAKES LOVE.

In the April American Magazine Ellis Parker Butler writes another small-boy story in his new series entitled, "Teacher's pet," and in the following extract the small boy talks about his girl:

"Her name is Milly. I have not said any thing about milking her yet—not to her or anybody—but I've carried her books three or four times and I hit her in the back of the head with a soft snowball and I guess she likes me for. She threw a snowball back at me when I hit her and then, when I washed her face for her with snow, she just said 'Oh, George! You mean things!' as if she might be willing to marry me sometime if I got nerve enough to ask her when we're grown up. I wonder how a fellow gets nerve to ask them. I don't thing I'll ever have."

TEMPERANCE NOTES

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

"WHO DRINKS MUST GO."

This is the title of an article in a recent number of the "Techical World," a magazine devoted to mechanics. We quote a few paragraphs:

"Drinking will now spell prompt dismissal for you if you are an employee of the Herberly Chocolate company, International Harvester company, Sherwin-Williams company, Sheffield Car works, United States Steel corporation, Western Electric company, Pullman company, Edison company, Western Union, Interborough company, Standard Oil company, or any one of a thousand other American firms of the first rank. Sears, Roebuck & Company forbid employees entering a saloon at any hour of the day within a mile of their plant in any direction."

Last spring a local-option election was held in the 'dry town' of Three Rivers, Mich. The big industry of the town is the Sheffield Car works. The management of these works issued a circular letter to the many thousands of workmen advising them that if they signed wet petitions they would by that act be placing themselves in opposition to the interests of the company.

"Yes, and only a few months ago the great steel works at Homestead, Pa., employing 12,000 men, decreed that not only would drinking be prohibited during working hours, but that even the slightest intemperance while off duty would be cause for immediate discharge."

"This magazine could be crammed to the covers with similar instances of the strong front industry has assumed against alcohol during the last two years. The sentiment of the executives of industry is pretty well summed up in the pointed statement of Andrew Carnegie: 'There is no use wasting time on any young man who drinks liquor, no matter how exceptional his talents.'"

"C. L. Chase, manager of the famous Bureau of Safety of the United States Steel corporation, a man who knows the social side of industry as few men do, declares his opinion that in ten years, through the combined effort of American industries the manufacture and sale of liquors will be at an end in the United States."

What does it all mean? The writer of the article goes on to explain that manufacturers have discovered the link in their business. Scientific experiment and the practical working of total abstinence among their employees have shown them that it is caused by alcohol.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION.

The wonderful transformation of the Russian people as the direct result of the stopping of the sale of alcoholic liquors in the czar's domains has been watched by the white ribbons of the United States with intense interest and deep thankfulness. The following letter, giving expression to these feelings, was sent to the czar by the president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union:

"To His Majesty, the Czar of Russia. 'Sire: It is my high privilege on behalf of four hundred thousand members of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union of the United States, to extend to your majesty an expression of their profound gratitude for the far-seeing action of your majesty in abolishing the liquor traffic in Russia."

"This act of your majesty is exerting a mighty influence for good in the United States of America and will prove an incalculable blessing to the whole world."

"With great respect,
"ANNA A. GORDON,
"President."
